TESTIMONIAL

Elite Telecom Services and Carceron Systems Group have been strategic partners for over 5 years now. During that time Mike Russell's firm has assisted countless Carceron clients in saving tens of thousands of dollars on their telecom and Internet access expenses. Our clients are constantly impressed by the amount of savings and/or additional value that ETS can produce. Since ETS is built around customer service, our clients get faster response times to their issues, and, they're services are re-shopped every term to ensure that they are always achieving maximum cost savings or getting the most value for the service that they have. Also, given that both of our firms are now national, it is good to know that we can bring ETS into any client, in any state, where they can always produce the same cost savings and value. I can sincerely say that choosing not to meet with Mike Russell of Elite Telecom Services would actually cost your business money.
